Proactive Reconciliation

The Bible says “leave your gift there before the altar and go. First be reconciled to your brother, and then come and offer your gift.” (Matthew 5:24). Have you ever tried to blow out a trick candle? Have you ever opened a gift to find out it's empty? What kind of message does this prank send? I love a good practical joke as much as the next person so those scenarios can be knee-slapping hilarious, but when we do the same thing in worship to God it does not have the same effect. It's thoughtless and disrespectful. Can conflict with our spiritual brothers and sisters negatively affect the quality of our worship offerings?

Jesus said that the Pharisees hearts were far from God even though their mouths were saying honorable things (Mark 7:6-7). That kind of hypocrisy proved they were not in genuine relationship with God. Peter tells husbands to treat their wives honorably because their communication with God can be hindered, disrupted (1 Peter 3:7). John believes that our love for God can be seen clearly in how we treat our brothers and sisters (1 John 4:20-21). In fact God calls us liars if we claim to love Him without loving His family. How dare we offer that kind of empty worship and service to the God who has given us all things pertaining to life and godliness (2 Peter 1:3)!

There is an unmatched level of proactivity in the teachings of Jesus. If we want to avoid conflict with God, we must first work directly on conflict with our brothers and sisters. A brother in Christ shared this illustration with me: to be reactive in our Christian walk is to simply float downstream and allow it to carry you where it will, for better or for worse. To live proactively, like Christ (Matthew 7:12), we need to look downstream and use the rudder, the oars, that God has given us to navigate effectively. There is self-reflection involved here (Philippians 2:3-4). We need to think about our influence on others and see if there has been an offense and try to rectify it as quickly as we can. May God bless you as you try to clear the path for unhindered, love, prayers, and service to God each day. This is the ministry of reconciliation (2 Corinthians 5:18).

Food: Matt 14, feeding the 5000
Healing: Mark 5:22, Matthew 8:13
Control the elements: Mark 4:39
2. Preferential treatment:
Child of the King. Human perspective;
3. God's son; Spiritual perspective
Became Flesh; John 1:14
Emptied Himself; Philippians 2:5
Tempted as we are; Hebrews 4:15
Suffered as a human; Matthew 26:67, Matthew 27:30, John 19:1
Suffered emotionally, psychologically, carrying the sins of all time.
Matthew 27:46
4. The rest of the story.
Heb_7:26
Php_2:9
Heb_12:2
In the heavenly Kingdom the glory comes after the obedience, compliance.
5. What does all this mean for us?
Adoption; Rom 8:15
Not earned or good enough, but our response is faithful obedience out of thanksgiving.
6. Good enough? We need the transformation provided by Jesus as we are made perfect through His Sacrifice.
